

BRIAN HARRIS & CO

GENERAL TERMS OF BUSINESS

1. INTRODUCTION

- 1.1. These General Terms of Business (General Terms) apply to the supply of Services by the firm under the Engagement Letter. By instructing or continuing to instruct the firm you are deemed to have accepted the Services Contract including the General Terms.
- 1.2. The firm is a legal entity with its own legal personality, separate from that of its employees and consultants.
- 1.3. It is important for you and any other beneficiaries of the Services to understand that the members and employees of the firm do not assume any legal liability or personal responsibility for the Services delivered by the firm under or in connection with the Services Contract. This legal responsibility and liability is only assumed by the firm.
- 1.4. Each clause and provision of the General Terms constitutes a separate and independent provision. If any provision is found by any court or authority to be void or unenforceable, the remaining provisions shall continue in full force and effect.
- 1.5. The Services Contract including any additional terms which may supplement them, and which are expressly agreed between the firm and you from time to time (Additional Terms) represents a binding contract between you and the firm and the entire agreement and understanding between the firm and you in connection with the Services and supersedes any prior agreements, understandings, arrangements, statements or representations relating to the Services. In the event of any inconsistency between the Engagement Letter and any other elements of the Services Contract, the Engagement Letter shall prevail. In the event of any inconsistency between the General Terms and any Additional Terms, the Additional Terms shall prevail.
- 1.6. In the General Terms the following words and phrases have the following meanings:

2. SUPPLY OF LEGAL SERVICES

- 2.1. The Engagement Letter sets out the Services to be delivered by the firm and associated matters. The General Terms may be subject to variation as stated in the Engagement Letter.
- 2.2. The firm is responsible for the supply of the Services with reasonable skill and care
- 2.3. Any advice, opinion, statement of expectation, forecast or recommendation which is supplied by the firm as part of or in connection with the Services shall not amount to any form of guarantee, warranty, undertaking or any other form of enforceable commitment that any future outcome event or circumstance will occur.
- 2.4. The firm is not responsible for the delivery of services which: -
 - 2.4.1. are not included in the Scope of Work;
 - 2.4.2. are identified as excluded work at Part II of the Schedule to the Engagement Letter;
 - 2.4.3. are not in the nature of legal services
 - 2.4.4. relate to the provision of advice concerning taxation (unless and to the extent that it is expressly stated in the Engagement Letter that advice concerning taxation is to be provided); and/or
 - 2.4.5. concern the laws of any place other than England and Wales or the legal procedure or process in any place other than England and Wales.
- 2.5. The Brian Harris & Co Person(s) who will initially conduct your work on a day to day basis and the supervisor of that work are identified in the Engagement Letter. In some cases, such persons will be the same. From time to time the Brian Harris & Co Person who is responsible for the day to day conduct of the legal services or for the supervision of the same may change but the firm will use reasonable endeavours to avoid this.
- 2.6. Sometimes a Brian Harris & Co Person may be referred to as a partner. This is simply an indication of his status a Partner and does not mean that he assumes individual legal and personal liability for the Services.
- 2.7. Sometimes Brian Harris & Co will arrange for third parties who are not employees of the firm to undertake work on your behalf. The most likely example is a barrister, but other examples are bailiffs, planning consultants, sheriffs, experts, interpreters, process servers and enquiry agents. These parties will be entitled to be paid for the services that they provide and you will be obliged to pay us the full cost (including their disbursements) of obtaining their services (including value added tax) in addition to payment for the Services.

3. ANTI-MONEY LAUNDERING AND ANTI-TERRORIST FUNDING

- 3.1. Much of our work is within the regulated sector and, even where it is not, best practice requires that we adopt the procedures and recommended practices laid down by the SRA and the Law Society. The firm is required to satisfy itself of your identity and to verify it by independent means. You must provide us with your full name, nationality, address or addresses and date of birth and, if asked to do so, produce documents verifying that information, such as a passport, photo driving licence and/or official document addressed to you. Our duties are to continue to monitor such data and even if you have been a client of the practice for many years we may still require you to provide information of this type from time to time. We shall explain the evidence required of you by the firm if you have not already been asked for identity verification documentation.
- 3.2. The firm will not be able to accept money for or from you until you have provided the evidence requested in the Engagement Letter.
- 3.3. We are required in certain circumstances to disclose information to the National Crime Agency where the firm knows or suspects that a transaction on behalf of a client involves money laundering, the firm may be required to make a money laundering disclosure. If this happens the firm may not be able to inform you that a disclosure has been made or of the reasons for it.

- 3.4. Neither the firm or any Brian Harris & Co Person is liable for any failure to provide the Services, or to comply with a certain standard of provision of the Services, or for a disclosure of confidential information, in each case to the extent that it is attributable to the matters mentioned in the General Terms.
- 3.5. The firm does not accept cash receipts and will not be obliged to do so in connection with the provision of the Services.

4. COMPLAINTS

- 4.1. If at any time you would like to discuss how the Services can be improved or if you have a complaint about them, you are invited to telephone or write to the supervising partner as identified in the Engagement Letter. If your complaint is not resolved, you should request the identity of the member of the firm who is designated as the client care partner whom you should telephone or write to with details of the complaint. He or she will investigate it promptly and respond to the complaint.
- 4.2. You also have a right to send a complaint to the Legal Ombudsman. The time limit for bringing a complaint to the Legal Ombudsman is one year from the act being complained of, or from when you should have realised there was cause for complaint.

5. UPDATING ADVICE AND CRITICAL DATES

- 5.1. Neither the firm nor any Brian Harris & Co Person shall be under any obligation to update any advice, document, report or other product comprising the Services (whether oral or written) following an event occurring after the advice, document, report or product has been provided (such as, for example, a subsequent change in the law). Neither the firm or any Brian Harris & Co person has any responsibility to advise you in such a case that there has been a change in the law and/or that advice previously given or any other product of the Services is no longer accurate or appropriate.
- 5.2. Neither the firm nor any Brian Harris & Co Person shall be under any obligation to inform or remind you or any other person of critical dates which are outside the time during which the Services are provided or which are not connected with the Services. Examples include (but are not limited to) rent review dates, option dates, break clause dates and service of notice dates.

6. LIMITATIONS ON OUR LIABILITY

PLEASE READ THE FOLLOWING IMPORTANT PROVISIONS CAREFULLY

- 6.1. The firm's Liability and any liability of Brian Harris & Co Persons in connection with the Services shall be limited (or excluded in the case of Brian Harris & Co Persons other than the firm) subject to and in accordance with the General Terms.
- 6.2. The maximum aggregate liability of the firm and Brian Harris & Co Persons to you and any other Claimants (as defined below) arising from or in connection with the Services Contract shall be limited to £2,000,000.00 (ignoring the 'excess' amount) as our insurance cover which relates to legal advice within the jurisdiction of England and Wales.
- 6.3. The limitation of liability in clause 6.2 above:
 - 6.3.1. applies to the maximum aggregate liability arising in contract or tort or equity or under statute or otherwise howsoever for any loss or damage suffered by you (or by any other person) or any other form of monetary liability arising from or in connection with the Services howsoever the loss or damage or other form of liability is caused, including negligence;
 - 6.3.2. does not apply to liability arising from fraud, any other form of dishonesty or reckless disregard of professional obligations.
- 6.4. Where you comprise more than one person or there is more than one beneficiary of the Services (Claimants), the limitation on our liability under the General Terms shall be apportioned by the Claimants amongst all of them. Neither you nor any other Claimant shall dispute or challenge the validity, enforceability or operation of the limitation on the ground that no such apportionment has been so agreed or on the ground that the agreed share of the limitation amount apportioned to any "Claimant" shall include you and other Claimants.

- 6.5. Neither you nor any other Claimant shall bring any claim against any Brian Harris & Co Person other than the firm in respect of loss or damage suffered by you or by any other person arising out of or in connection with the Services. This restriction shall not operate to limit or exclude the liability of the firm for the acts or omissions of any Brian Harris & Co Person.
- 6.6. If for any reason, a Brian Harris & Co Person is liable as an individual in connection with the Services, notwithstanding the agreement in the General Terms that he or she shall not be, then the foregoing limitation on liability shall operate to limit the maximum aggregate liability of each and all of the firm and the Brian Harris & Co Persons.
- 6.7. Special provisions relate to the collapse of a deposit-taking institution
 - 6.7.1. It is unlikely as a matter of law that the firm would be held liable in the event of any loss of your funds held by the firm resulting from the failure or collapse of any bank or other deposit taking institution.
 - 6.7.2. Any liability on the part of the firm arising as a consequence of any such collapse or failure is subject to all the limitations on liability provided in the General Terms.
 - 6.7.3. The absence or limitation of liability shall have no effect on the firm's obligation to honour undertakings it has given.
 - 6.7.4. Any money deposited by you with the firm shall be held with Brian Harris & Co's bankers, C Hoare & Co.
 - 6.7.5. At present, in the event of a failure of a deposit-taking institution relating in loss to you, provided that you are an individual or a small company it is possible to make a claim under the Financial Services Compensation Scheme (FSCS) to recover compensation for the loss of funds held in the firm's client account.
 - 6.7.6. By agreeing to the Services Contract, you hereby consent to the firm providing information about you to the FSCS to enable them to identify you and determine the amount you might be entitled to compensate for your loss.
 - 6.7.7. The current limits for compensation from FSCS are set out on the FSCS website at: <http://www.fscs.org.uk/what-we-cover/eligibility-rules/compensation-limits/>

If you hold other monies with C Hoare & Co those funds will be included within the said limit.
 - 6.7.8. Some deposit-taking institutions trade under a number of different names. If you have different accounts with the same institution (but adopting different trading names) the limits of compensation will still apply to all of those accounts. You should check with your deposit-taking institution, the FCA or a financial adviser for more information.
 - 6.7.9. The right to compensation from the FSCS is limited to individuals and companies which satisfy at least two of the following three thresholds: (i) annual turnover must not exceed £6.5 million; (ii) the balance sheet total must be less than £3.26 million; and (iii) the total number of employees must be 50 or less.
